

Introducing the Community Stakeholder Committee on Reclaimed Water (CSCRW)
10/29/2020

An enthusiastic group provides vital input for Flagstaff's water future

The Reclaimed Water Master Plan is underway, and the Community Stakeholder Committee on Reclaimed Water (CSCRW) will provide a community perspective on the various water management options for Flagstaff's uncommitted reclaimed water. Learn about the Reclaimed Water Master Plan in our latest Water Reliability Today & Tomorrow blog post or follow the group's progress on our webpage. Over the next few months, this volunteer committee will study water strategies for Flagstaff with our consultant, Brown and Caldwell, to rank the best options for our uncommitted reclaimed water.

Get to know the committee members through their short biographies here.

Community Stakeholder Committee on Reclaimed Water

 Paul Beier	 Megan Burke	 Max Evans	 Emilee Jung	 Shelley Kelch
 Michele Lee	 Rod Parnell	 Thomas Smith	 Joe Shannon	 Nina Schmidt
	 Paul Turner	 Marilyn Weissman	 Rob Vane

To learn more about reclaimed water and the options under consideration, visit the CSCRW webpage at: Flagstaff.az.gov/CSCRW, to follow the Plan's development. You can also contact the Water Resources Manager, Erin Young at Eyoung@flagstaffaz.gov or (928)213-2405 with any questions.